

Summerschool 2022

Handout: Panel Presentations

Tuesday 20 September 2022

CRC 228 Future Rural Africa:

Future-Making and Social-Ecological Transformation

Leisure Hall UNAM, Windhoek

Panel: Nature Conservation & Local Practices:

Bennett Kangumu, Michael Bollig & Diego Menestrey

Ecology and Land Transformation:

Lydia Chabala, Evans Sumasiku & Lucas Rutina

Economic Development and Community Empowerment:

Joseph Mbaiwa, Enock Sakala & Javier Revilla Diez

9:00 The Role of Nature: Environmental Implications on the Course of the War for Namibia's Independence, 1966 – 1974 - Nehoa Kautondokwa

Synergies and Tradeoff of Carbon Storage Along Pathways of Land transformation - Amatotsero O. Vanessa

Looking Beyond Green Grabbing? Land, Renewable Energy and Livelihoods in the Global South - Frankline Ndi

Co-adapting for Coexistence: A Biocultural Perspective on Human-Lion Interactions in Northern Botswana - Julia Brekl

Comparing the Effects of Two Types of Mulches on Soil Properties and the Performance of Selected Woody Species on a Degraded Land in Kunene Region, Namibia - Kristof N. Simon

Development Corridors as Mobile Knowledge - Emily Gubbini

Multisensory Conservation: on the Role of Technologies in Trans-boundary Elephant Management - Emilie Köhler

10:30

Coffee Break

11:00 Socio-ecological, and biophysical factors influencing carnivore-livestock conflict in Mudumu South Complex, north-eastern Namibia - Sitali L. Mbeha

Assessment of Plant-to-Plant Interactions and their Role in the Restoration of a Degraded Area in Kunene Region, Namibia - Soini

Global Production Networks (GPN) of Conservation Projects and their Relevance for Observable General Changes in Local Livelihoods Within the Kavango Zambezi Transfrontier Conservation Area - Manuel Bollman

An Interpretation of Artworks Made with found Objects in Namibian Contemporary Arts - Samuel Amunkete

Woody Vegetation Regeneration in the Etosha National Park, Ongava and Etosha Heights Game Reserves in Namibia after the 2012 Wildfires using MODIS Time Series - Karinamuinjjo C. Katjiteo

A Sociological Analysis of the Politics of Seeds Systems and Local Praxis in Namibia: a Case Study of Oshikoto Region - Arthur Kambambi

12:30

Lunch Break

13:30 Exploring Local Peacebuilding Potentials among the Pokot and Turkana, Northwest Kenya - Elizabeth Ndunda

Comparing plant functional traits and species diversity along a rainfall gradient in northern Namibia - Albertina Shikongo

An Investigation on the Replicating Effects of Agricultural Practices at Etunda Irrigation Scheme on the Surrounding Villages - Valeria T. Iiyambo

Assessing Determinants of Indigenous Knowledge Prevalence in North-Central Namibia - Amelia N. Nicodemus

Drought and Flood Vulnerability Study Using Geospatial Analysis Coupled with Quasi-Experimental Evidence: Case Studies in Kharas and Zambezi Regions - Erlich H. E. I. Zausismue

An assessment of the Effectiveness of Joint venture Partnerships in Wildlife-Based Tourism in Zambezi region, Namibia - Kenneth Chanda

15:00

Coffee Break

15:30 Age, Generation and Future Making Practices among Maasai in Tanzania - Sabrina Msangi

The Ecological Impact of Bush Encroachment on Communal Rangeland Ecosystem of Okondjatu: Preliminary Observations - Angula Nahas Enkono

Salambala Conservancy's Level of Contribution to Poverty Alleviation to the Community Members - Manongwa Tonycent Sikanda

Challenges and Successes of Wildlife Management in Southern Regions Conservancies, Namibia: A Case of Oskop and !Khub Naub Conservancy - Leandré Cloete

An Evaluation of Rangeland Conditions and Comparison of the Existing Methodologies Used to Determine Bush Encroachment in Otjozondjupa Region - Tjituka Vitjituaije

Forest-Assemblages in Zambia's Western Province: changing value relations and knowledge-practices between conservation and commodification - Paula Alexiou

Conservation & Health - Hannah Munzel & Huy Truong